“Moondance is visionary...”

Sandra Bekhor, President,
Bekhor Management

Author profile

Born: Collingwood, Ontario, Canada

Now lives in: downtown Toronto

Author of: Moondance

Education: Public/high school in Collingwood, B.Sc. (biology and English) from the University of Toronto at Erindale College, MBA from the Rotman School of Management at U of T.

Day jobs: Communication consultant in the Canadian benefit and pension industry since 1992. A practising karmic astrologer (karmic astrology provides information on past lives, and our life purpose).

Personal: Single condo dweller, eclectic music lover, recovering perfectionist, foodie on a decadent health kick. Caution: no sense of humour whatsoever.

Favourites? Six Feet Under, Kiezlowski’s Three Colours “Red”, John Sandford, Neale Donald Walsch, Brian Weiss, Radiohead, Jim Hicks, Willy Porter, Michael Hedges, Egyptian cotton, Massive Attack, Laphroaig, BBQs, omakase at Hiro Sushi, scallops at Starfish, my cook-friendly kitchen, lakes, traveling anywhere in Europe.

Pet peeves: American Idol, reality TV, black and white thinking, suburbia, “House”, Blackberries, The Secret, clothes shopping, those who think they’ve got a corner on the “truth”, people who don’t clean up their own messes—in life and in the hallway.

What I couldn't live without: Sushi. My computer. www.radioparadise.com. Nah, I could live without any of it. Until then, I say thank you—alot.
